

SEATTLE IN FIERCE TURMOIL CITIZENS RISE AGAINST THE I. W. W. SECRETARY OF STATE IS ATTACKED IN THE SENATE

BRISTOW ROASTS BRYAN AND WANTS TO INVESTIGATE HIM

Special Nugget Service.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Senator Bristow introduced a resolution in the senate last evening calling for an investigation of the expenses of William Jennings Bryan but the resolution was defeated by a large majority. After the defeat of the resolution Bristow opened a severe attack on the Secretary of State and seldom has a member of the cabinet been subjected to such a severe criticism. The senator declared it to be nothing short of disgraceful for a Secretary of State of one of the greatest and richest countries in the world to go around giving lectures for money while the affairs of the country were of such great importance and in a condition which needed all the energy of its executive branch of the government. The speaker declared that there was quite enough money in the position of Secretary of State for anyone who was willing to serve his country and he insinuated that when Mr. Bryan said that he could not live on the salary he was saying something that was not a fact.

The resolution to investigate the expenses of Mr. Bryan and the subsequent speech of the senator, of course, created quite a sensation and several members of the senate would willingly have spoken in defence of the Secretary of State but the matter has been declared at an end.

Of all the members of the cabinet Bryan seems to draw down the ire of the republicans more than any other and he is certain of a stormy time from now on.

NEW WITNESS CALLS MULHALL PERJURER

Special Nugget Service.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—That Mulhall is a perjurer and that his evidence before the lobby investigating committee has been a tissue of falsehood from beginning to end is the evidence given before the same committee today by Senator McClure who is the republican candidate for congress in the special election for the sixth district of New Jersey. McClure declared that he had a personal and direct knowledge of the facts with which Mulhall dealt in giving his testimony and that all the statements made by Mulhall were pure distortion of the facts.

McClure was called to give evidence at his own request and when he announced that he could prove Mulhall to be a liar by documents which he had in his possession. These documents have not yet been produced but they will probably be placed in evidence today and some interest is being manifested in them as they may throw some real light on the value of Mulhall's charges.

GOVERNMENT CHINESE SMASH THE REBELS

Special Nugget Service.

PEKIN, July 19.—The first real battle since the beginning of the present revolution took place yesterday between the Chinese government troops and the revolutionaries at Suchowfu and resulted in a decisive victory for the republic. The number of rebels engaged in the battle was only 4,000 but the force of the government was still less but seemed to have no difficulty in completely defeating the revolutionaries according to the advices which have reached the capital from the field of battle.

A great army is now being mobilized by the government and foreign officers are engaged in the work of training thousands of recruits.

All the members of the government feel that Russia is the chief cause of the trouble and that the Russian government has no other purpose in view than to secure Chinese territory, particularly Mongolia, when she succeeds in getting China divided. The rebels defeated at Suchowfu are members of the southern revolutionary forces. After the battle hundreds are supposed to have been executed and the policy of the government is to treat all prisoners as traitors and show them no mercy.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR IS APPOINTED TO MEXICO

Special Nugget Service.

LONDON, July 19.—Sir Lionel Edwards Greasley Gardner has been appointed British minister to Mexico. The appointment is made because Gardner is supposed to be acquainted with the sort of subjects which are coming up for decision in that republic. It is known that he has received instructions to make a detailed report as to the effects which the revolution is having on the property of British subjects.

CHARLEY THOMPSON IS LET GO WITHOUT SENTENCE

Charles Thompson was let go on his own recognizances today by Judge Murane. The defendant was charged with assault on his wife, a native woman, but some considerations entered into the case which caused the court to be lenient.

OREGON TOWN IS DESTROYED

Nugget Special Service.

PORTLAND, July 19.—The whole business section of the town of Sheridan, Oregon, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Sheridan had several hundred inhabitants but the total population is not a thousand. It may be said, however, that the business section is a complete wreck and the extent of the loss can be guessed. Amongst the business houses wrecked were many rather good ones.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE SENTENCED

William G. Butler and Owen Nidym, two soldiers, were sentenced to two years and three months each in McNell's Island for assault with intent to commit rape on native women at St. Michael.

The men were found guilty by a jury some days ago but leniency was asked for. The penalty for the offence is from one to fifteen years in the penitentiary but the court evidently took into account the recommendations of the jury. It is said that the jury did not find them guilty of the greater offence because they believed sufficient punishment could be inflicted by finding them guilty of assault with intent.

FINAL FOR TROPHY TO BE PLAYED TOMORROW

The final game of the league series will be played tomorrow should the weather be fine. The competing teams are Company E and Nome. Both sides seem to be confident and the outsiders are divided in opinion but nearly all seem to think that the game will be a close one. The game will begin at 2 o'clock.

The management desires that the spectators will keep back so that the game will not be interfered with. In former game a crowd butted in between third base and the plate so that the umpire has been unable at times to tell what is a fair or a foul ball. The game tomorrow, being the final, will probably be the most exciting of all and the crowd will probably be greater than usual so there is particular stress laid on the advisability of giving the players an open field.

DR. ARNOLD FIGURES 20 PER CENT. LOSS FROM DROUGHT

The Wild Goose mining company has two elevators now installed in the Council district but is unable to operate either owing to the lack of water. One of the elevators was in operation last year and the two would have been working this year but not even enough water for one is available. Dr. Arnold who recently paid a visit to that section says that the result of the dryness is disastrous. The effect is due to a combination of circumstances, that is the lack of a big snowfall during the winter and no rain. When asked what he estimated the loss would be from the drought he said it would be a conservative estimate to say the loss would be twenty per cent.

SEATTLE SOLDIERS AND CITIZENS SMASH AND DESTROY

Nugget Special Service.

SEATTLE, July 19.—One of the most extraordinary events in the history of this city occurred last night when the sailors from the battleships, the soldiers from Fort Lawton and great crowds of citizens raided all the quarters of the Industrial Workers of the World and smashed and destroyed every semblance of the property of the organization on which they could lay their hands. The scene was a most violent one and the police were entirely powerless to stay the course of the rioters. The military and sailors marched on every hall in which the Industrial Workers are accustomed to hold forth and with cheers and groans for all traitors they tore into shreds the emblems of the organization or burned them in fire. The furniture was demolished to match wood and the emblems and paraphernalia were in many instances thrown into the streets. The stands and wagons which belonged to the order were also demolished amidst the cheers of the sailors and soldiers and citizens and one of the most exciting scenes imaginable took place for several hours.

The soldiers and sailors declare that before they entered into the raid against the I. W. W. several fort and several of those from the ships had been beaten up by crowds of the so-called Industrial Workers just because of differences of opinions and because the military and naval men had attempted to uphold the dignity of the flag when it was attacked by the socialistic individuals.

The soldiers and sailors expressed the desire to be understood that they have nothing against labor unions and that they are in favor of labor unions but that they will stand no longer for the acts of men who are no better than traitors and who are constantly attacking the country's flag and doing no good to labor whatever.

The trouble may not yet be over and there is now very great danger that some of the Industrial Workers will be even more severely dealt with. Some of the leaders who are known to have been the leeches of the organization and who have been making money off the simple workers by filling jobs at salaries are said to have got out of town already and the chances are good that many more will be compelled to follow. The citizens who aided the soldiers and sailors in their great raid are not wealthy men but are men who have become disgusted with the teachings of the parasites who are using the ignorant working men as their tools. It is now evident that the days of the red flag in Seattle are about numbered and a further attempt to wave it will almost surely be followed by more serious consequences.

MAYOR FORBIDS ISSUE OF THE SEATTLE DAILY TIMES

Nugget Special Service.

SEATTLE, July 19.—An extraordinary step was taken today by Mayor Coterill of this city who in view of the great riots which occurred here last night has forbidden the Times newspaper from being published unless Colonel Blithen permits the mayor to read the proofs of the matter to be published.

The mayor issued a proclamation today which practically places the city under martial law. The occurrences of last night were even more riotous than at first published. The destruction committed was awful and the feeling today indicates that most appalling results will come should the socialists give the slightest cause. The mayor has issued a special proclamation dealing with the matter this afternoon. In it he has declared that a case of the greatest emergency exists and that he has now taken personal command of the police to see that life and property are protected from the violence of the enraged citizens. He closed every saloon in the city and prohibited all sorts of meetings on the streets of the city today and tomorrow.

He has declared that this course is necessary as the feeling of the citizens and the soldiers and sailors has risen to such a point that the most serious consequences are possible unless peace is kept by the most extraordinary methods.

The great question now is as to whether the Blithens will abide by the order of the mayor or whether they will defy him and stand on the ground that a mayor or no other official has the right to prohibit the publication of a newspaper unless it directly incites to rebellion or riot.

People this afternoon are wondering what the outcome will be. The Industrial Workers of the World are hiding in many cases as they know that the police will hardly be able to protect them should violence break out. In the meantime the city looks as though it were in a state of siege.

MEXICAN PAPERS MUST KEEP QUIET

Special Nugget Service.

MEXICO CITY, July 19.—The newspapers of this city have made not the slightest comment on the appointment of General Diaz as special envoy to Japan. All of them gave the news of the appointment but gave it so simply and quietly that it is evident that they had received orders not to make much of the matter. As one American attaché said, The simplicity is suspicious. Diaz holds so large a place in the public eye that his appointment to any place would have been chronicled by all the papers and much space would have been devoted to the story if there were not some remarkable reasons for keeping it so quiet.

No further demonstrations against Americans have taken place but there is no denying that the feeling against citizens of the United States is very bitter and something may occur at any moment to precipitate matters.

RUSSIA WILL NOT BE LET INTERFERE

Special Nugget Service.

LONDON, July 19.—The foreign office has given out a statement that the concert of powers has made no move whatever to put an end to the war in the Balkans. This statement is made as a contradiction of the rumors that Russia would interfere at the request of Bulgaria.

Parliament was not in session today and the statement would probably have been made in the shape of an answer to the question had the chance been given.

All the information from the seat of war today leads to the conclusion that Bulgaria is now in a very serious condition and that she has apparently no chance to recover from her defeats.

NATIVE MUST MEET TAXES

In the case of the United States vs. Sitarangok the court decided this morning that the defendant must pay $20 and costs. This is practically an affirmation of the decision of the lower court which sentenced Sitarangok to pay a fine for refusing to pay his road tax. The remarkable feature of the case is that the defendant is a native employed in a store at Council. The decision of the court means nothing less than that natives are subject to the tax as well as white people.
